

Bruno Kappes, University of Alaska, Anchorage (USA)

Bruno Kappes, Ph.D. is professor of psychology and health science at the University of Alaska, Anchorage. He is also a licensed psychologist, certified biofeedback therapist, and certified medical psychotherapist. Teaching and research interests include extensive clinical and forensic expert experience with traumatic stress, chronic pain, insomnia, personal injury, custody, and criminal assessments. Dr. Kappes has received six excellence and innovations in teaching awards and has extensive experience with eLearning and distance delivery of psychology courses. Over the last 35 years he has pioneered distance delivery psychology course instruction via Teleconferencing, live Televised courses statewide in Alaska and Hawaii as well as Video, DVD, and Internet. He currently provides eLearning psychology courses to 900 students per year, 300 per semester in subjects that include, General, Abnormal, Stress, Forensic, and Trauma. Dr. Kappes has presented numerous international presentations including presentations at EDULEARN10 in Barcelona, Spain, 2008 iLearning Forum in Paris, France and most recently served as a 2011 International Advisory Board Member for INTED in Valencia, Spain. Professor Kappes is an active faculty promoter and passionate leader/facilitator of several University-wide ePortfolio initiatives.